108	Malcolm Tibbetts	Volume Four – Functional Projects – Lessons in Segmented Woodturning	Eight projects are profiled. They are: an outdoor birdhouse, picture frames, an oil lamp, paperweights, salt and pepper shakers, a wine cooler, ice cream scoops, and a unique type of baby rattle.
109	Malcolm Tibbetts	Volume Five – More Functional Projects – Lessons in Segmented Woodturning	The projects are: a child's stacking toy, mass-produced desk clocks, a very unique set of candle holders, kaleidoscopes, a salad bowl set, serving bowls using leftovers, a banksia pod bracelet, and belt buckle with inter-changeable components.
110	Malcolm Tibbetts	Volume Six – Special Boxes - Lessons in Segmented Woodturning	These boxes are indeed special. The first one is a "segmented" version of Allan Batty's famous "Secret Box". The construction will challenge your turning skills. The second project is based upon the "Cryptex" container that was featured in the movie and book, "The Da Vinci Code". This is a challenge to create and it can be a challenge for your friends to open.
111	Malcolm Tibbetts	Volume Seven – Jewelry - Lessons in Segmented Woodturning	In this DVD, I present over 20 different styles of jewelry. Most items can be created with minimal turning and woodworking skills; although, there are a few techniques that will challenge even the very experienced segmenter. There are many types of earrings, three very different styles of bracelets, belt buckles, bolo ties, and a couple of unique necklaces. Even if you are not interested in jewelry making, I think most segmenters will find techniques that they can incorporate into other styles of work.
